

Ken Frenchman Comments on WoodSpring Hotel's Summary Judgment in Delaware Law Weekly

A Delaware court has ruled on summary judgment that National Union Fire Insurance Co. must indemnify a multistate extended stay of a hotel chain for up to $10 million it spent defending a now-settled trade secrets lawsuit. "We're very happy with the decision, and think that Judge Davis got it exactly right," said Ken Frenchman. The May 2 ruling said that, while only two of the counts in the underlying 11-count complaint fell within the parameters of coverage National Union provided to client WoodSpring Hotels, the insurer was still obliged to defend the action.

The full article can be found here.

Related People

Kenneth "Ken" H. Frenchman