

Law360 reported, “Insurer Must Cover Tech, Co. In Failed Software Suit”

Law360 reported that Delaware Judge Eric M. Davis has ruled that Endurance Assurance Corp. must cover at least part of SS&C Technologies Inc.’s settlement of a client’s suit over delayed software installation. Judge Davis granted SS&C a partial summary judgment, saying Endurance breached the policy issued to SS&C “by failing to indemnify any portion of the software company’s deal in the underlying case brought by Armour Capital Management LP.”

Read the entire article .

Related People

Robin Cohen