

Law360 reports on Insurance Ruling for Conduent State Healthcare v. AIG Speciality Insurance Co.

Law360 reported on a key insurance ruling for Conduent State Healthcare v. AIG Specialty Insurance Co. on an issue of first impression under Delaware law in which a state judge held that a policyholder is entitled to defense coverage when it receives a notice from a government agency indicating it is under investigation for potential wrongdoing.

Click here to read more.

Related People

Robin Cohen

Keith McKenna