

Marc Ladd named a 2018 Law360 “Rising Star”

Marc Ladd was named a “Rising Star” by Law360 for his work on behalf of Pella Corporation seeking insurance coverage for tens of millions of dollars in defense and indemnity costs for hundreds of lawsuits alleging defective windows and doors, and his representation of New Jersey Transit Corporation in securing a victory in NJ state court on August 24, 2017 allowing the company to access up to $400 million in insurance coverage from six excess carriers to make much-needed repairs to its property following the devastating impact of Superstorm Sandy.

After reviewing more than 1,200 submissions for the “Rising Star” distinction, Law360’s team of editors arrived at the list of “Rising Stars” hailing from more than 80 law firms and spanning 36 practice areas. Winners were selected based on their career accomplishments in their respective disciplines.

Marc’s full profile can be found here.