

Robin Cohen Recognized Among “Top 250 Women in Litigation” by Benchmark Litigation for 2022

Robin Cohen has been recognized among the “Top 250 Women in Litigation” by Benchmark Litigation for 2022. The Top 250 Women publication honors the accomplishments of the nation’s leading women litigators.

Robin Cohen of Cohen Ziffer Frenchman & McKenna is recognized as one of the leading litigators in the insurance coverage space. With her select policyholder client base, Cohen has been at the forefront of impactful insurance-related wins that have had substantial implications across the industry. She currently serves as lead counsel to Thor Equities in an ongoing case that questions whether property insurers must cover business interruption losses of policyholders arising out of the pandemic. The team obtained a major victory in April 2021 for policyholders that established coverage is possible.

Related People

Robin Cohen