

Insurance Recovery

Clients rely on our adept, formidable advocacy team to maximize their insurance coverage, reduce their risk, and guide them safely through their liability disputes and bet-the-company challenges. With deep and varied experience and an outstanding, 20-year service-delivery history that includes more than $10 billion in insurance recoveries, we help policyholder organizations overcome legal and commercial obstacles while plotting the very best course forward.

Our award-winning team works closely with in-house counsel and c-suite executives, serving as advisors while simultaneously creating effective, aggressive litigation strategies. The two-pronged approach enables our clients to prevail in high-stakes conflicts, protect company interests, and profit from valuable insurance assets. Dedicated to responsiveness and fueled by a drive to understand all aspects of our clients' businesses, we counsel organizations across a spectrum of industries, including manufacturing, software, financial services, healthcare, pharmaceuticals, energy, and education. Because we represent policyholders exclusively, we avoid conflicts of interest while procuring optimal outcomes for our clients at all stages of litigation, from summary judgments to trials and appeals. When courtroom battles can be avoided, we help navigate clients through alternative dispute resolution processes.

Our lawyers cultivate and maintain close, long-term relationships with clients—including many Fortune 500 companies—embedding ourselves in the company culture and ensuring they get the best coverage.

Our Inventive Approach

Familiarity Breeds Originality: Two decades of cohesively practicing together enables us to operate at the highest level and craft unique and extremely effective arguments.

Uncharted Territory: Always forward-looking, we frequently advise clients that are grappling with disputes originating in emerging and quickly evolving areas. They include Covid-19-driven bankruptcies and other pandemic fallout, climate change impacts, autonomous driving accidents, alterations in the securities regulatory environment, and cybersecurity risks and attacks; we prevailed in a first-of-its-kind cybersecurity decision.

Alternative Fee Arrangements: Our creative thinking also informs our approach to payments, and we are open to adopting the remuneration and risk-sharing structures that work best for our clients.

Holistic Perspective: No matter the size or the type of organization we're serving, we provide advice that takes into consideration both the short-term and long-term effects of insurance recovery litigation, business priorities and objectives, and public relations and publicity implications.
