My Approach

I thoroughly enjoy diving into complicated scenarios, thinking critically about them, and generating informed, effective paths to optimal resolutions. I am deeply empathetic and genuinely care about my clients, always striving to understand their unique needs and circumstances. This approach allows me to tailor resolutions that are not only effective but meaningful to them. I find it incredibly fulfilling to blend in-depth legal analysis with creative, client-centered solutions that lead to positive outcomes.

Overview

Handling a variety of matters in the insurance recovery and commercial litigation arenas, Katrina Bader protects her clients' interests and helps them achieve their business goals through litigation, strategic negotiation, and empathetic communication.

With an appreciation of intellectual challenges and creative problem solving, Katrina works diligently to fully understand her clients and their diverse industries to best provide legal guidance precisely tailored to their unique needs and circumstances. She's highly organized, and her detail-oriented methods often help her to catch nuances that others might miss.

Katrina combines a meticulous approach with genuine empathy, prioritizing open communication and active listening to truly understand her clients' needs. She speaks in straightforward, jargon-free terms, ensuring her clients feel comfortable, informed, and engaged in their own cases. Katrina's dedication to understanding each client personally allows her to craft advocacy strategies tailored to their unique situations. Her ability to stay calm under pressure, rapidly assess a situation, and think on her feet allows her to quickly pivot and adapt her approach to best support her clients' positions and goals.

As an undergraduate, Katrina studied philosophy, politics, law, and entrepreneurship. She credits these studies with honing her ability to break down arguments, logically consider issues from many perspectives, place cases within a broader societal context, and better understand the challenges and opportunities that businesses encounter.

Katrina is passionate about doing pro bono work, volunteering, and giving back to the larger community.
