

The National Law Journal Recognizes Keith McKenna as “Trailblazer” in Plaintiff Litigation

The National Law Journal has recognized Keith McKenna as a 2020 “Plaintiff Trailblazer” in the publication’s fourth annual feature on the nation’s leading plaintiff lawyers who have “achieved remarkable success” representing plaintiffs in high-stakes disputes.

Keith McKenna:

Keith McKenna focuses on complex insurance recovery disputes. Keith’s recent wins include serving as lead counsel on behalf of Pella Corporation in securing a global settlement with insurers concerning coverage for more than $57 million in costs incurred by Pella in defending and settling dozens of class action lawsuits. These rulings will have a national impact, as there is little authority discussing what events trigger defense obligations when windows or other construction products cause water damage that do not manifest for years, and complaints alleging construction defects typically do not allege when damage began.
